David Koball has been growing winegrapes in Mendocino County in California for 17 years, all of it in certified Organic and Demeter certified Biodynamic vineyards. He has been working for Bonterra Vineyards for 11 years. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Plant Science from the University of California at Davis, and a Master of Science degree in Plant Pathology from Cornell University. Growing up, he worked with his family farming olives, prunes, and walnuts.

David currently oversees production on 970 acres of certified organic land in Mendocino County, 284 acres of which is also certified Biodynamic. This is accomplished with a staff of up to 110 employees, and produces annually 4,400 tons of grapes.
